Drafting Students Learning Skills: Students in Advanced level II and III Drafting courses

recently visited the Anspach Advanced Manufacturing School at the Yancey Campus of Mayland Community College. The tour provided an inside look of the Welding, Design Engineering, and Robotics/Mechatronics departments associated with the Applied Engineering Technology Program. Students were able to see real world skills and equipment used in this workforce training program. Following the tour at Mayland, students visited Altec Industries of Burnsville. These young designers learned how their Drafting courses relate to both the Applied Engineering and Manufacturing Degree Program which is needed to obtain a highly skilled position at a world leader of telecommunications and utility contractors' products.

Band Concert: The Band traveled to the elementary, middle and high schools this week for a special music performance. The students enjoyed hearing some seasonal Christmas music. Thank you to the students and Band Directors of Madison High School, Madison Middle School, and Madison Early College High School for sharing your talents and music.

MMS Theater Performance: The Madison Middle Theater program is in the height of their performance season. The Advanced class is performing Twinderella to parents and as many students as they can reach. The show has been very successful, one of the most flawless groups to hit the stage. The other classes are doing evening performances for parents and the students at MMS. Check out more pictures of MMS arts on the MMS Arts Swag page on Facebook.
