MMS NHS Dance Arts: National Honors Society of Dance Arts at MMS met for a discussion on this year's book, Taking Flight by Michalea De Prince. The students received a real teacup and had light tea snacks while discussing their thoughts on the book. Brayden Walker commented, "The book is about being yourself and not caring what other people think about you." Cate Ayers related to the story because "it shows there can be a beautiful outcome even with a struggle to get past." The students enjoyed their time together and hope to read another amazing book next year. Special thanks to Dr. Caroline Davis for helping to get copies of the book for us to enjoy and Mrs. Jessica Chandler for helping us get the event together.

Read Across America Day: March 2nd was Read Across America Day. This day occurs each year on the birthday of children's book author, Dr. Seuss. This week elementary schools celebrated their love for reading with many special activities. Students and staff dressed up as their favorite book character and had a parade around school hallways. Madison County Public Libraries hosted our second grade students with special activities. Mr. Moon, Mascot of Asheville Tourists, visited the kindergarteners at Mars Hill Elementary and read a favorite book to the students. Thank you to the Madison County Public Libraries and the Asheville Tourists Mascot, Mr. Moon, for celebrating the love of reading with our students.
